Unit Descriptions

Unit 1 – Basic Expressions of English Language

This unit focuses on students' abilities with the fundamental building blocks of English as appropriate to the Eleventh Grade level. As part of this introduction course, students follow a demonstration of writing an introductory paragraph before completing the writing process in their own introduction. This Introductory unit contains diagnostic assessments in language, reading, and writing. These include writing a well-constructed paragraph about themselves, sentence structure, homophones, and punctuation. Students are also exposed to the "Nifty Thrifty Fifty" vocabulary throughout this unit to strengthen their reading comprehension and spelling.

Unit 2 – Novel Movies

Students choose a novel or a short story. After reading the selection, students discuss elements and content such as imagery, descriptions, character, and audiences. Students then view the movie that complements the book. Students compare and contrast the novel/short story with the movie version of the same text. A Venn diagram can be used to compare the novel and movie versions. Students are required to present their findings to the class either on videotape, audiotape, or via a live performance.

Unit 3 – Ad it Up!

This unit focuses on students' investigation and interpretation of the different forms of advertising. Students use the knowledge of media forms, representations, audiences, and industry practices to analyse a variety of media works. They demonstrate an understanding of form, audience, and production by designing and creating advertisements both collaboratively and individually. In this unit there is a major emphasis on the investigation of newspapers and magazines. Students study the Classified Section in several newspapers in order to interpret the text as well as to explore and demonstrate an understanding of various career opportunities. This will lead into Unit 4 where employability skills are studied in more depth.

Unit 4 – Consulting the Community

Students research and practice specific skills that are expected in the workplace. They identify workplace requirements and employability skills and relate them to their communication skills. Through reading and writing of workplace communications, and interaction with guest speakers from local businesses, they develop their own skills and then document them in a portfolio, which also includes samples of their written work. This gives students an opportunity to apply and master the necessary communication skills required in the workplace.

Unit 5 – Be Your Own Boss

This final unit reinforces skills of research analysis, selection of appropriate media, presentation skills, and various writing forms from each of the preceding units. The final product takes the form of a job fair. Students can use this process as a starting point for a summer job or a long-term career. Students and staff from other classrooms and community members may participate in the fair as prospective employees. Students are given the opportunity to demonstrate and apply their understanding of workplace related skills.

Teaching/Learning Strategies

This course is organized into an eight-week series of lessons and activities that will be presented to students in remote northern communities via the internet. The eighth week will be used for course consolidation, review, and the final examination. Teacher and students will communicate over the internet, while mentors in the classrooms will assume the role of liaison between the teacher and the student.

A variety of strategies will be used in the online delivery of this course. Some instructional strategies include

- using written material with immediate and lasting value and relevance to students;
- reading texts and charts analytically and critically for information;
- using diagrams, charts, and graphic organizers for communication;
- using a variety of technological and written sources for research;
- relating information to their personal situations and interests.

Learning goals will be discussed at the beginning of each assignment and success criteria will be provided to students. The success criteria are used to develop the assessment tools in this course, including rubrics, checklists, and exemplars.

Evaluation

The final grade will be determined as follows (Ontario Ministry of Education, 2010):

- Seventy per cent of the grade will be based on evaluation conducted throughout the course. This portion of the grade should reflect the student's most consistent level of achievement throughout the course, although special consideration should be given to more recent evidence of achievement.
- Thirty per cent of the grade will be based on a final evaluation administered at or towards the end of the course. This evaluation will be based on evidence from one or a combination of the following: an examination, a performance, an essay, and/or another method of evaluation suitable to the course content. The final evaluation allows the student an opportunity to demonstrate comprehensive achievement of the overall expectations for the course (p. 47).

Program Planning

This course is offered to Indigenous students living in isolated northern Ontario communities which do not have access to regular high school facilities, equipment or teachers associated with secondary education. This course uses the internet for instruction, demonstration, and research. It utilizes a student-centered semi-virtual classroom which capitalizes on the strengths of internet program delivery to minimize the disadvantages of geographic remoteness.

Students are presented with 1320 minutes of instruction/activity via the internet over the period of one week. All lessons, assignments, questions and course material is presented in this manner, with approved print materials available as a student resource in each classroom. The student and instructor communicate via the internet, while a classroom mentor (a fully qualified teacher) assists students in completing tasks in a timely manner and provides tutoring as required. Students may also receive support from various programs at KIHS, including the First Nation Student Success Program and the Special Education Program.

Indigenous and local content is used throughout the course to meet students' learning needs. Considerations are made to the learning preferences of the student population and lessons can be adjusted for individual students as required.
