Course Description/Rationale

This course is open to the entire student body and will allow students who have no prior Native language experience to develop an appreciation for a Native language and culture, to explore and experience a unique world view, and to learn to speak a Native language. Students will use the language being studied for greetings and daily routines, become familiar with its writing and sound system, and practise basic vocabulary and phrases. Students will also use information technology during course-related activities.

Overall Curriculum Expectations

Oral Communication

- demonstrate basic listening skills;
- converse on familiar topics in structured situations;
- demonstrate an understanding of language structures and vocabulary in context;
- demonstrate an awareness of Native oral traditions (e.g., Native legends, stories, songs);
- use information technology to communicate in a Native language.

Reading

- read simple material on familiar topics in structured situations;
- recognize language patterns and vocabulary that have been learned through oral work;
- read for comprehension of ideas;
- demonstrate an understanding of language conventions and vocabulary in simple texts;
- use information technology to communicate in a Native language.

Writing

- use a variety of simple and compound sentences;
- write on familiar topics, expressing ideas clearly;
- demonstrate accuracy in writing and a knowledge of linguistic conventions;
- use information technology to communicate in a Native language.
- communicate in a Native language with other students.

Unit Descriptions

Unit 1: Introduction to Native Language

This unit gives students an overview of goals and expectations that they are striving for in this course. They practice phonics of the orthography through activities and games. They discover the Native values of respect and world view as they participate in opening exercises. Students participate in basic greeting exchanges and use key vocabulary to understand classroom routines, such as responding to questions and directives in a friendly atmosphere. Students develop media communication skills by recording a short dialogue to share with other students.

Unit 2: People

In this unit, students become familiar with vocabulary of immediate family members. They learn about clan systems and the relationships within clans. Students practise “Good Mind” activities that demonstrate appreciation of other cultures and employ coping mechanisms for self and others.

Unit 3: Arts

This unit allows students to develop vocabulary and language skills through Native art forms while acquiring an appreciation of Native culture and history. Through the experience of hands-on activities, which may include painting, drawing, sculpting, or storytelling, students make connections to Native culture, values, and philosophies. A sense of identity emerges as students interact and communicate with others in a Native language.

Unit 4: Mother Earth

This unit introduces students to stewardship of the natural world from a Native perspective. Experiential and tactile activities provide students with a unique understanding of all peoples' connection to Mother Earth. Students study basic vocabulary related to edible and medicinal plants and their locations.

Unit 5: Media Works/Communications Project

This unit encompasses all that is learned in Units 1-4. The final product takes a form that students will individually select and feel comfortable with (e.g. Video presentation, song, poem, or slideshow presentation). The final product will be an introduction of their community, and lifestyle. It will include all of the overall curriculum expectations, in written works, and oral communication. All of the steps in creating the project including the final product will be evaluated. The project will utilize language in a way that satisfies all strand requirements, including a component of media communication.

Teaching/Learning Strategies

This course is organized into an eight-week series of lessons and activities that will be presented to students in remote northern communities via the internet. The eighth week will be used for course consolidation, review and the final examination. Teacher and students will communicate over the internet, while mentors in the classrooms will assume the role of liaison between the teacher and student.

A variety of strategies will be used in the online delivery of this course. Some instructional strategies include:

- Direct instruction (on-line lecture)
- PooDL (both option to listen and create)
- Discussion
- Cooperative learning
- Guided-learning

Learning goals will be discussed at the beginning of each assignment and success criteria will be provided to students. The success criteria are used to develop the assessment tools in this course, including rubrics, checklists, and exemplars.

- constructing dialogues
- Word vocabulary sound clips
- conversation duos
- creating a storyboard
- feedback comments
- grammar exercises
- illustrating constructed dialogues
- independent study
- knowledgeable community people
- lexicon chart
- lexicon/word list development
- Media videos (legends)
- word games
- online dictionaries
- oral presentation-audio recording
- personal word lists
- practical exercises

- Reading
- Storytelling and story writing
- syllabic(vowel) sound chart
- translation exercises
- vocabulary lists for word development
- instructor's audio recordings
- Student sound recording(oral communication)
- Structured Discussion in student activities

Evaluation

The final grade will be determined as follows (Ontario Ministry of Education, 2010):

- Seventy per cent of the grade will be based on evaluation conducted throughout the course. This portion of the grade should reflect the student's most consistent level of achievement throughout the course, although special consideration should be given to more recent evidence of achievement.
- Thirty per cent of the grade will be based on a final evaluation administered at or towards the end of the course. This evaluation will be based on evidence from one or a combination of the following: an examination, a performance, an essay, and/or another method of evaluation suitable to the course content. The final evaluation allows the student an opportunity to demonstrate comprehensive achievement of the overall expectations for the course.

Program Planning

This course is offered to Indigenous students living in isolated northern Ontario communities which do not have access to regular high school facilities, equipment, or teachers associated with secondary education. This course uses the internet for instruction, demonstration and research. It utilizes a student centred semi-virtual classroom which capitalizes on the strengths of internet program delivery to minimize the disadvantages of geographic remoteness. Students are presented with instruction/activity via the internet. All lessons, assignments, questions and course material is presented in this manner with approved print materials available as a student resource. The student and instructor communicate via the internet, while a classroom mentor (a fully qualified teacher) assists students in completing tasks in a timely manner and provides tutoring as required.

Students may also receive support from various programs at KiHS, including the First Nation Student Success Program and the Special Education Program.

Indigenous and local content is used throughout the course to meet student's learning needs. Consideration are made to the learning preferences of the student population and lessons can be adjusted for individual students as required.
